This is the same day that another party of gentlemen from Greensboro went fishing but they brought back no such string as this. The next time these gentlemen go fishing they had better take along a preacher in order to insure them good luck.

DIAMOND THIEF CAUGHT

An Accident Saves Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan Her Jewels.

New York World.

London, May 5.—An elaborately planned scheme to rob Mrs. Pierpant Morgan, Jr., of her jewels, was frustrated by pure accident yesterday.

A man who gave his name as George Howard called at Pierpont Morgan, Jr's house, No. 13, Prince's Gate, and asked to examine the call wire of the District Messenger Company and was shown upstairs. He then said he would go to the roof, and did so, but unintentionally pulled the telephone wire about so that the telephone company sent an electrician on a bicycle to see what was wrong.

Howard was arrested, and when searched typewritten instructions were found on him containing accurate information as to where the valuables were kept. Howard is now identified as a man long wanted by the police for jewel robberies extending over some years, the aggregate value of the jewels stolen being $125,000.

He got $10,000 at Mrs. Meride's Park Lane; $15,000 from the house of Madame Dominguez, No. 70 Tilmay street, and $6,250 worth at Mrs Arbuthnot's No. 6 Wilton Crescent. These robberies were all perpetrated within a few months.

Howard refuses all information about himself, and denies that he has any confederates, but the police believe he must have had business relations with some receiver to get rid of all these gems. Howard resided in Leicester. Turnbridge Wells, and was living in great style. Had he been successful in his attempt on Mr. Morgan's house he would have made a $30,000 haul. Howard is the most important jewel thief captured by Scotland Yard.

LECTURER AND STUDENT FIGHT

BOTH SPEND A NIGHT IN THE POLICE STATION

Lecturer Calls on Student With a Bludgeon and They Go at It—Lecturer Held and Student Released—Cause of the Attack.

New York Sun.

Paul S. Howe, a lecturer employed by the board of education, and William Atkinson, a student at the General Theological Seminary in Chelsea Square were prisoners in Jefferson Market police court yesterday morning. Howe charged with felonious assault upon Atkinson and Atkinson with assault upon Howe. For nearly two hours the lecturer and theological student stood in the unsavory line of prisoners awaiting examination. Both bore traces of the savage fight they had in the seminary late on Saturday night and in which Howe is said to have been the aggressor. At last, after hearing the case, Magistrate Cornell discharged Atkinson and held Howe in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury.

The testimony showed that Howe, who boards with a Mrs. Koehler at 233 West Fourteenth street, called at Atkinson's room on the top floor of the seminary and without preliminary words assaulted Atkinson. The latter said that he was prepared for an attempt to assault him because Howe had made threats to that effect. Atkinson's story was that while he was at work he heard a rap at his study door. There was some fumbling at the knob and he sprang up to open the door, thinking that some of the men at the seminary were playing pranks. Opening the door he found Howe white-faced, wild-eyed, and Atkinson said, intoxicated.

"Howe shoved his hand into the front of his coat," Atkinson testified, "and I said to myself: 'He's got a revolver sure,' and I dived for him. I hit him a blow and then caught him. I was able to hold him until Fred Cook, a student in the room next to mine, came to us in the hall. Then I telephoned for a policeman and while I was telephoning Howe tried to get away from Cook. In the struggle Howe fell and cut his forehead. He had previously cut my head by hitting me with the bludgeon he carried.

"I went to the police station to make charge against Howe. He wanted to make a charge against me also. The sergeant turned to Capt. Moynihan for advice.

"Lock 'em both up," said he and I took my medicine."

Neither of these men were bailed out. In court Cook who comes from Kansas City and is studying at the seminary, corroborated Atkinson as to the way Howe received his injury. Howe would only say that he went to Atkinson's room to demand an explanation of an affront which he asserted that Atkinson had offered Mrs. Koehler. Howe admitted that he had been drinking. The bludgeon Atkinson referred to was ten-pound cast iron furnace shaker belonging to the furnace of the seminary.

"I thought you were all a lot of little lambs down there," remarked Magistrate Cornell.

"No-o, not exactly," said Cook.

Before being taken to court prison Howe said that Atkinson had violated his confidence.

"On Christmas Day he accepted my hospitality and afterwards affronted my landlady," Howe said. "He persisted in paying attention to a young maried woman after I had warned him not to do so. He has letters that reflect upon me and has turned people against me. I went to his room to force him to apologize to me and to promise not to contiue his disagreeable actions. I haven't a friend in New York to go on my bond for $1,000. I don't know any of the school commissioners well enough to ask them."

At Howe's boarding house it was said that Mrs. Koehler was so ill that no hope is entertained for her recovery. She is a middle-aged German woman who is said to admire Howe greatly for his learning. He is tall and of distinguished appearance.

Atkinson said that he had known Howe for about a year and had tried to help him in his ambition to become an Episcopal clergyman. On his representations, Atkinson said, some people in Brooklyn parish had consented to recommend Howe and he studied at the seminary for nearly a year. Last year he managed a mission in New Jersey, but the mission fell flat. Then Howe went to boarding in West Fourteenth street and after watching him, Atkinson said he dropped him. Howe, he said, had been lecturing on Russia and Constantinople.

"Howe's feeling against me," said Atkinson, "is due to my having dropped him and my refusal to help him further. He wrote some slanderous letters to Dean Hoffman of the seminary but no attention was paid to them. His stories of my misconduct are quite untrue. The young married woman he speaks of is a very fine woman whose husband is well able to take care of her."

AT GUILFORD COLLEGE.

A Graded School to be Established There—Reported Fight a Hoax

The election held yesterday at Guilford College for the purpose of establishing a graded school there resulted in the school measure carrying by a vote of 41 to 21 out of a total registered vote of 72. A report reached Greensboro yesterday afternoon that a fight had occurred there over the election, but the Telegram is this morning informed that the report was a hoax and that nothing of the kind occurred.

Everything passed off quietly with the exception of a few words between two gentlemen, which amounted to nothing serious. The Guilford College neighborhood is to be congratulated on their enterprise.

A Whole Brass Band.

This afternoon a man and woman somewhat out of tne usual run, appeared on the streets. The man was a whole brass band in himself, having on his back a brass drum, with snair drum and cymbal attachments on top. These are operated by his feet, and with his hands he plays an accordion. His rendition of "Dem Goo-Goo Eyes" took with all the coons, and several of them are already planning to imitate him. He amused large crowds on South Elm while the woman sold song books.

Hay Ride Without Hay.

A crowd of South Greensboro young folks enjoyed a ride through the suburbs of the city last night. It was a hay ride without the hay. Those who participated were Mr. Joe Phillips and Miss Sallie Love, Mr. C. E. Brower and Miss Ruby Glascock, Mr. Clarence Hudson and Miss Lucy Jones, Mr. Lute Glascock and Miss Bertha Jones, and Mr. Will Phipps. The entire ride was enjoyed but especially that portion of it spent on Summit avenue.

COTTON MILL TRUST.

North Carolina Said to Possess Such an Institution.

Tarboro Correspondent of the Raleigh Post.

The people of North Carolina will perhaps be surprised to learn that nearly, if not all, the cotton seed oil mills in the State have been sold to some gigantic corporation, the name of which is being witheld, but generally supposed to be the American Cotton Seed Oil Company. Such, however, is a positive fact, the only mill known to your correspondent now included and not already in some corporation being the Swift Creek Manufacturing Company, a small plant situated at Wrendale, Edgecombe county, and which has not yet been approached.

The deal was concluded in Norfolk at 12 o'clock Saturday night and the contracts are resigned this morning, (Monday), when, of course, the purchasers will be known. When the deal was concluded those who sold knew not to whom they were selling. The following is a partial list of those "going in" with the amount each is valued at, and though the valuation may not be exactly correct it is nearly so:

Tarboro Contoe Mills,	$ 60,000
Rocky Mount Mills,	50,000
Shelby Mills,	41,000
Selma Mills,	80,000
Goldsboro Mills,	200,000
Charlotte Mills,	400,000
Shiloh Mills Edgecombe county,	25,000

The purchase price to be paid 50 per cent cash to 25 per cent common stock and 25 per cent preferred stock.

If the profit in all is in proportion to that which appears to your corespondent has been given the Tarboro and Conetoe plants, the mills might have done a great deal worse. Rocky Mount was the last mill to capitulate and did so only after a stubborn resistance. Charlotte was probably the first.

9 ACRES SLEEPING ROOMS

Only One Guest at the Statler Hotel—Gamblers, Thieves and Pickpockets in Buffalo.

Buffalo Dispatch, 3rd, to Louisville Courier-Journal.

The splendid joke of the Pan-American Exposition is on the capitalists who built the mammoth Stattler Hotel with nine acres of sleeping room, three miles of hall and a dining room to feed 5,000 persons. Today 286 employes were on duty at the hotel. There was one guest, Mr. Wilson, of New York, who humorously complained to the office of inattention on the part of the servants. Mr. Wilson will go away tomorrow. The management is looking for some one to take his place.

The strangers at Buffalo for the fair thus far consist largely of the gentry who have come to get the money of the crowds later on. There is a line-up at police headquarters every morning, when the suspicious characters brought in by the force are paraded before the detectives for scrutiny. At least a hundred thieves, pickpockets and 'con-men" have been warned out of town within two weeks. Two detective sergeants from New York will have charge of the plain clothes force during the exposition. Fifty detectives from various cities will be here crook-hunting from June 1 to the end of the exposition.

The gambling fraternity is strongly represented by delegates from behind the tables at Canfield's, Kelly's, Vendig's and Rustrick's in New York and Saratoga. The police have kept everything closed to date, but apparently the tiger will be released soon, as Patrick F. Sheedy today leased the old City Club-house behind the Iroquois Hotel recently used as a hotel. It is a splendid property for gambling purposes. New York gamblers are trying to form a faro syndicate.

REFUSED TO LEAVE JAIL

Officials Obliged to Resort to Law to Oust a Prisoner Who Had Served His Time.

Philadelphia Record.

John Kelly was an angry man when they turned him out of Moyamensing Prison yesterday. His sentence of three months was up a week ago,but he climbed upon a legal technicality, made eloquent gestures in Superintendent Motherwell's face and would not depart "Not I," said Kelley. "I won't go on those terms. Not I. Never."

It seems that he had been sentenced to three months and to pay the costs in a matter of assault and battery. The costs amounted to $18.37, and when imprisoned Kelley had had upon his person $19. This sum was taken from him, and when he came to be released 63 cents of it was handed back.

"What is this?" asked Kelley.

"That's all there is due you, my man."

"All!" shouted Kelley.

"Sure, my good man."

"How do you make that out?".

"Now, Kelley, don't get excited. Try and think. Remember that the Judge sentenced you to pay $18.37 costs and that you had $19 when you came here. We've deducted the costs from the $19, and 63 cents remain. That's all yours."

Kelley making gestures with both hands raised high above his head, said: "It's an unheard of thing for a man to serve a term and pay the costs besides. The rule is that the prisoner swears he has no means to pay the costs,and then they let him go."

"But you've got $19, my man."

"Drat that," said Kelley. "I won't pay the costs. "I'll get my $19 if I stay here till I die."

"Go back to your cell," said the superintendent, defeated for the nonce. He knew he could not legally take the money from Kelley against his will.

Several days went by, and Kelley still refused to pay the costs out of his $19. Superintendent Motherwell, in despair, went to see Assistant Distrct Attorney Finletter, who devoted several hours of research to the case.

"We'll apply joinly, under the old statute of 1764, which supersedes the blue law, or act, of 1831, K 4 G," said the Assistant District Attorney, "in this matter. Kelley will be respondent you, Motherwell, will be garnishee.

Accordingly the garnishee and the respondent went to Court, Judge Stevenson sitting uponthe bench. The garnishee told of the costs, $18.37; of the personal property, $19 in cash, and of the refusal to pay on the part of the respondent. Kelley, the respondent, only said that he would rather stay in jail always than settle up.

"I decide," said the Judge, "in favor of the garnishee. He will deduct the $18.37 costs out of the respondent's $19, and he will give the balance to the respondent, and then he will turn the latter out of jail."

The garnishee, with a smile of relief, bowed. Kelley received his 63 cents and later on was ordered to leave Moyamensing. He departed sullenly.

Mosquitoes and Yellow Fever.

Philadelphia Medical Journal.

The search for the pathogenic mospuito still goes on. Having fastened the responsibility for malaria upon this insect, the scientists seem agreed upon fixing the blame for yellow fever upon it too. The role of the onpheles in malaria seems to be well established, but we still need more definite information about the completion of the life cycle of the malarial parasite. Is the mosquito the intermediary host, or is the essential link—"the means by which its existence is assured from year to year"—the individual known in The Lancet as "malarial man?" During the past year a few facts of importance—confirmatory, rather than truly originating—have been added to our knowledge of the propagation of malaria. Thus Manson's experiment on himself was confirmatory. He submited himself to be bitten by some imported anopheles mosquitoes and promptly developed an attack of tertian fever. This was a disease that he could not readily have picked up in England, and the plain inference is that the imported insects gave it to him. Mosquito nets, wire gauze doors and windows and petroleum are now added to quinine as weapons against malaria and yellow fever.

ODELL HARDWARE CO.

Scrofula

Scrofula is an unwelcome legacy, but one which the children of blood poisoned parentage must accept, with all its humiliating consequences. It is an inheritance that makes one poorer; that brings wretchedness and disease instead of health and riches, for the child whose ancestral blood is tainted with Scrofula or the loathsome virus of Contagious Blood Poison is unfitted for the arduous duties of life so long as any of the transmitted poison remains in its veins. Scrofula manifests itself in various forms; swollen glands about the neck and throat, catarrh of the head, weak eyes, hip bone disease, white swelling and offensive sores and abscesses are familiar symptoms, attended usually with loss of strength, poor digestion and pale or bloodless complexion. The skin is sometimes most dreadfully affected, eruptions breaking out on all parts of the body. Scrofula destroys bone, tissue and flesh; no part of the human system escapes its withering, benumbing touch. Parents whose blood is poisoned by their own misdeeds, or who themselves may be suffering for the sins of some remote ancestor, must restore their own blood to its normal purity and strength, or they cannot expect healthy, robust children. S. S. S. cures Scrofula, like other diseases of a deep-seated, constitutional character, by restoring life and purity to the profoundly poisoned blood, and the rich, strong blood that is carried to the swollen and diseased glands absorbs and destroys the tuberculous deposits, and the painful, disfiguring sores and other evidences of Scrofula disappear.

When nineteen years old, and about one year after the birth of my first child, the glands on the left side of my neck began to swell. Four of the places were lanced and became open running sores; risings came under my left arm, and the discharge was simply awful. The doctors said I had the worst case of Scrofula they had ever seen. I took iodide of potassium, but this nor the other drugs given for this disease brought relief. When the physicians advised me to have the glands removed, I decided to try S. S. S. A few bottles cured me completely; no signs of the terrible disease are left.

S. S. S. should be begun immediately upon the appearance of the first symptoms, or where there is a known predisposition to Scrofula. Should you or any member of your family need advice, our physicians will cheerfully give the information you desire, for which we make no charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

TUESDAY, MAY 7.

The Baltimore Sun aptly states the situation when it says:

"Jacksonville has aroused the earnest sympathy of all sections of the country, and is eliciting the usual prompt response which the individuals and commuunities in the United States always make to suffering and distress, whether the victims of misfortune be of their own nation, as in this case, or in far distant regions, as in the case of the starving people of India a year ago. Whatever may be said of the eagerness with which Americans devote themeslves to the pursuit of wealth, there are no people anywhere in the world who are so generous in extending aid whenever and wherever it may be needed, and none so uncalculating and unselfish in opening their purse strings to any object which commends itself to their pity and humanity. In the terrible calamity which overtook Galveston. Texas, all portions of the United States displayed a generous rivalry in furnishing assistance, and while the ruins in Jacksonville were yet smoldering, relief trains were already speeding on their way to the assisitance of the unfortunate city, or being prepared to carry food and clothing to the destitute. That there is urgent need of immediate and unstinted help is shown by the dispatches contained in The Sun on Saturday and the further details given this morning."

Not only is it "meet and right so to do" onthe part of Baltimore, and other large cities both North and South, but the smaller ones can and should materially aid to the extent of their ability, in this worthy cause.

We are too prone in this busy and hustling age to overlook our duties to the distressed and afflicted,and more especially if the objects of such are not immediately in our midst. This however does not relieve us of our responsibility. Steam and electricity makes neighbors of us all, and Jacksonville is today our neighbor and sister Southern city, only separated by a few hours travel. Greensboro should and doubtless will, do her part. Don't wait until a general appeal is made; we know that assistance is needed, and that our neighbors have suffered great loss and are in distress.

Let the public spirited citizens and Industrial and Immigration Association of our city get together in this matter without delay and we feel sure that such a meeting will result most satisfactorily to all concerned.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

In speaking of the tour President McKinley is now making through the South, Bradstreet's makes this comment:

"President McKinley's tour through the south has been marked by many gratifying incidents, which go to show that it is a nation, and not a congeries of sections, over which the Chief Magistrate of the United States presides, and that the present incumbent of the office has a high place in the confidence and respect of his fellow countrymen. The trip will serve admirably a double purpose. The visits of the official head of the nation to so many cities cannot fail to stir anew the spirit of patriotism among the people, and the President himself will find his knowledge of the country increased by the opportunities he will have enjoyed of seeing so considerable a part of it, not through a glass darkly but face to face. Mr. McKinley himself, it may be said, while not lacking in force as a proponent of policies, has given fresh evidences of the possession of an adequate and diplomatic temper. It will be strange if review of the state of the Union which he will submit to the next Congress does not prove to be one of the most interesting in the long series of presidential messages.

THE NEGRO AND HIS EDUCATION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

In a communication addressed to the Editor of the Washington Post, a negro makes this statement in regard to North Carolina's attitude towards the education of his race:

"Speaking for North Carolina, I can say that the new educational awakening in that State,brought about by the Constitutional Amendment, has evolved new friends for the negro. Two decades ago Vance and Jarvis were our friends. Now we are proud to say that Gov. Charles B. Aycock and Representative George Rountree, of Wilmington,N C., are the new friends of negro education. The negro who intends remaining in the South is rather an optimist. Conditions are bright for our people; larger opportunities are already being offered us, and those negroes who are really anxious for race advancement along all lines will not decry this section. With Texas' million dollar school fund; with North Carolina's $200,000 appropriation; with Hon. John W. Daniel, of Virginia, blazing out the path for good citizens to take the negro need have no fear for the future.

The governor of North Carolina last winter assured the negroes that they need have no fear as to their educational facilities, and his assurances stand confirmed. Let the radicals in the races, both North and South, keep quiet and the light, breaking in North Carolina, will soon be shining resplendently all over this southern land. In eastern North Carolina we have several schools for the training of negro teachers for the public schools. And the one most largely attended, the State Normal, at Plymouth, is succeeding admirably with an industrial department, and without any other aid than that of our white ta-payers. Let justice be done to all.

Sober second thought has brought our own people to their senses. Friendlier and stronger relations must exist in North Carolina between the races, and the teachers are laboring to bring it about."

And thus the negro is being brought to a realization of the fact that the Southerner is his true friend, and that from him are to come the opportunities in the development and use of which to a large extent depend his future as a race.

Another negro, Rev. C. T. Walker, pastor of the largest colored congregation in New York city, makes this statement:

"Having lived in the South all my life, except nearly two years spent in the pastorate in this city, from my personal observation I must confess that prejudice agaist my race in some sections of the North is as strong as in the South, only it is met and dealt with in a different way. The South gives every man an opportunity to earn a living; the Northern negro is given an opportunity to spend his living without the opportunity to earn it."

And when the negro in the south realizes fully that the Southern man is his friend, he will have made a long step towards the goal for which the better element of his race is already striving.

REVOLUTION POND MUST BE DRAINED.

SO SAY SANITARY COMMITTEE.

RESOLUTION PASSED BY THAT BODY THIS AFTERNOON.

This Action Found Necessary—If Nuisance is Not Then Abated Whole Dam at Revolution to be Torn Away—County Commissioners Elect Dr. Harrison Physician—Election Called for Good Roads.

The County Commissioners did not get through withtheir work yesterday and their sessions were continued today. The committee from the Good Roads Club appeared before them this morning with the request noted in yesterday's Telegram, and the Commissioners called an election to be held on the 21st of November for the purpose of sumbitting the question of issuing $300,000 of bonds for road improvements, to be settled by the majority vote.

The work of the sanitary committee is given below.

MONDAY, MAY 6TH.

The sanitary committee met pursuant to adjournment at two o'clock p. m. all the members being present.

A report was made by Professor J. M. Bandy, the civil engineer selected to make the measurements called for in the resolution adopted at thelast meeting.

Mr. R. R. King for property holders presented petitions asking that the committee take some action to prevent the sewerage from the Normal and Industrial College from being turned into and deposited along the streams north and west of the city.

Mr. R. R. King also submitted the report made by Mr. F. A. Pierce, a civil engineer to Mr. Ceasar Cone.

Mr. A. M. Scales, Mr. Jesse R. Wharton and others discussed the necessity of the committee acting at once to remedy the evils arising from the stagnant water caused by the Revolution dam and other obstructions in the creek. Mr. Lindau reported that already numbers of people in his employ were having chills and fever and asked that the committee take some action to remedy the evil.

The committee after a discussion of the matter passed the following resolution: Resolved,

1. That the condition of the area of drainage along and near North Buffalo Creek and its tributaries between the dam of the Revolution Cotton Mills on the east and the mouth of the sewer of the State Normal and Industrial College on the west is a menace to the health of the public and the same is a public nuisance and that it should be abated at once.

2. That the executive officer of this committee the superintendent of health of the county be and he is hereby instructed to notify in writing all parties occupying said premises or the owner of said premises not occupied, of the existence of said nuisance the character thereof and that thesame shall be abated at once in the following manner to wit:

That the dam of the Revolution Cotton Mill company across North Buffalo creek at the site of the old Orrell mill shall be opened and the bed and sides of the pond shall be thoroughly cleaned of all vegetable matter, logs and undergrowth and the swampy places connected therewith ditched and thoroughly drained and that said dam shall be lowered so that hereafter the top of said dam shall not be higher than five feet above the surface of the water below the dam. Provided that if the nuisance to the public health cannot by this be abated that the whole dam shall be torn away. That the sluice way of the dam across said creek on or near the property of the Empire Steeland Iron Company shall be so widened as not to obstruct the flow of the creek during high water. That the channel of the creek from the headwaters of the dam of the Revolution Cotton Mills Company (when said dam shall be cut down to five feet) to the dam on or near the property of the Greensboro Water Supply Company shall be thoroughly cleaned of all obstructions and if necessary deepened so as to thoroughly drain the contiguous lands. That all the lands of a low or swampy ture on either side of this creek and its tributaries between the dam of the Revolution Cotton Mill Company and the dam of the Greensboro Water Supply Company shall be connected by ditches with the creek so as to make the land dry and fit for cultivation. Any pool which cannnot be thoroughly drained by these methods shall be filled up even with thesurface of the surrounding lands. That all swampy or low lands on either side of what is known as the Normal College branch shall be ditched and drained in the same manner.That all swampy or low lands on either side of the branch running through what is known as the Fisher property north of the city of Greensboro until said branch empties into the said creek shall be ditched and drained in thesame manner and said branch straightened. That the State Normal College shall be required to build a reservoir at the outflow of their sewer sufficiently large to retain all solid material flowing through it for 1 year.

That all of the said ditching and draining shall be done under the direction of the county suveyor of Guilford County, and according to surveys and plans made by him. All of the said work necessary to abate said nuisance shall be done by and at the cost of the owners of the premises.

Upon motion of Dr. Beall, Dr. Edmund Harrison was elected superintendent of health of Guilford County for the next two years.

The salary of said Superintendent of Health was fixed at $200 yer annum. This amount to include attendance upon the inmates of the county jail and on the inmates of the county home for the aged and infirm and the county jail and such outside poor as he may be directed to attend. That for attending prisoners at the convict camps which may be located within five miles of the city of Greensboro he shall receive $1 per visit.

That the Board of Aldermen of the city of Greensboro be requested to ascertain if the report that sewerage is being turned into the college branch in the western part of the city is true and if so that they take steps to stop this at once.

Applicants Not Sure Whether George Washington or B. B. Odell is President.

New York Sun.

Several applicants for naturalization papers appeared before Judge Aspinall in the county court in Brooklyn yesterday. Salvatore Maccara, of 971 De Kalb avenue said he was afarmer.

"What," said JudgeAspinall, "a farmer and living at that address! I know that locality very well."

"Well, I live there," said Meccara, "and dig and shovel in the streets."

"That's a new kind of farming to me" sand JudgeAspinall. "I guess you are a laborer. Who is president of the Unted States?"

"I don't remember," was the reply.

"Well," said the Judge, "we don't want citizens who can't remeber such an important affair. Your application is rejected."

Michael Sartori, of 3 Clermont avenue was the next applicant.

"Who is the President of the United States?" asked the judge.

"George Washington."

"He was, not is,' said the Judge. "Who's governor of the State of New York?"

"Van Wyck".

"George Washington has been dead some years," remarked Judge Aspinall, "and Van Kyck has not got to the capital city yet by a long shot. You're rejected."

Another applicant had studied the questions so that he had them by heart and felt that he was bound to pass.But Judge Aspinall for some reason transposed them.

"Who's mayor of New York?" he asked.

"William McKinley."

"Who's President of the United States?"

"Benjamin B. Odell."

"Who's governor of New York?"

"Robert Van Wyck."

"Rejected," said Judge Aspinall.

A "DRY TOWN" IN KANSAS

Confidential Information Given by a Grocer to a Thirsty Man.

Kansas City, Mo., Journal.

A man from Missouri moved over into one of the so-called dry towns of Kansas; says M. K. Sherwood, in The Belleville Telescope. He had determined to "quit drinking,"and he felt that his resolution should be strengthened in a community where liquor presumably was not to be found. But one day his old thirst came back on him, and he determined to have some liquor if it possibly could be had. So he went down to the groceryman with whom he had been trading and made his wants known, with a result which Mr. Sherwood describes as follows:

The grocer listened to his tale of woe, and, teling his boy clerk that he could go home to supper he motioned to the man from Missouri to follow him, and stepping out upon the sidewalk he said in a low whisper, in a secret and confidential way. "Do you see way down at the foot of this street, on the left hand side, a very low house between two high ones, painted a dark yellow, with a flat roof and a big tree standing in front of it—just opposite where two white hoses are hitched?"

"Yes," replied the man from Missouri, under his breath, and as tickled as a soldier just back to his sweetheart.

'Well," whispered the grocer, "that is the only place in town where you can't get it. No one lives there."

Raney Mills Pardoned.

Raleigh Post.

Governor Aycock yesterday pardoned Raney Mills, a woman of Rutherford county who was convicted of murder and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The pardon was strongly urged by Judge Robinson and members of the bar in that section, as well as by a large number of people.

It will be remembered that her husband was lynched for killing a man named Flack. She was convicted as an accessory to the murder for handing her husband the pistol with which the deed was committed. At the time Flack had Mills on the ground and was beat him over the head.

It had given such satisfactory results that the name was unanimously selected by the people for the new office and adopted by the department at Washington, D. C.

Women suffering from female troubles and weakness, and from irregular or painful menses, ought not to lose hope if doctors cannot help them. which is the true cure provided by Nature for all female troubles. It is the formula of a physician of the highest standing, who devoted his whole life to the study of the distinct ailments peculiar to our mothers, wives and daughters. WILLIE VISITING IN THE COUNTRY.

I wish 'at I lived out here,
Where there are hills to climb,
And where a boy can slide down like
A flash, in winter time;
Where they are drifts to tumble in
And ponds to skate upon—
I wish my Cousin John was me
And I was Cousin John!

I'd like to have a colt to ride
And lambs 'n' things to pet,
With apples in the cellar, and
Drink milk that's steamin' yet;
I'd like to live where I could whoop
Around with all my might
And never have to be afraid
A cop would come in sight.

It's jolly sitting in the sled
When uncle drives to town,
And lets the horses walk up hill
And makes them gallop down!
It's jolly getting out behind,
Sometimes, and hanging on—
I wish my Cousin John was me
And I was Cousin John!

JOHNNY VISITING IN THE CITY.

I wish 'at I lived here, where things
Are all set at the door,
And where you see so many sights
You never saw before;
I'd like to ride in nice, warm cars
That whiz along the street,
Instead of in a bobsled, where
You nearly freeze your feet.

They never have no wood to chop,
Nor cows nor sheep to tend;
They never have to carry slop
To where the pigs are penned;
They never carry water from
A well that's far away,
Nor every night and morning feed
The stock a ton of hay.

They never have no cows to milk,
Nor other chores to do,
And every time they turn around
They look at something new;
There's always lots that's going on,
The streets are never still—
I wish that Cousin Will was me,
And I was Cousin Will!
